Service Definitions

Tennessee Prevention Network

The Tennessee Prevention Network is a statewide prevention program directed at providing primary prevention services to individuals who have not been determined to require treatment for substance abuse. The array of services falls into two (2) categories: (1) Selective prevention services which include programs and practices that are delivered to sub-groups of individuals identified on the basis of their membership in a group that has an elevated risk for developing substance abuse problems. An individual's personal risk is not specifically assessed or identified and is based solely on a presumption given his or her membership in the at-risk subgroup. (2) Indicated prevention services which include programs that focus on populations that are identified on the basis of individual risk factors or initiation behaviors that put an individual at high risk for developing substance abuse problems. The individuals targeted at this stage, although showing signs of early substance use, have not yet reached the point where a clinical diagnosis of substance abuse can be made.

Comprehensive Alcohol, Tobacco, and other Drug Prevention Services for Youth

The Prevention Program (PP) consists of structured, intensive group sessions targeting youth who may be at risk for developing alcohol, tobacco, or other drug (ATOD) use and abuse problems. The sessions should be age-specific, developmentally appropriate, include a parent component, and include a community service project that strengthens commitment against ATOD use and abuse.

School Based Liaisons for At Risk Youth

The School Based Liaisons for At Risk Youth service is the provision of face-to-face consultation with classroom teachers to assist them in structuring the classroom to enhance the learning environment for children with Serious Emotional Disturbance (SED), behavior problems, or Substance Use and Abuse Disorders (SUAD). Training and education regarding childhood mental health and substance abuse will be provided to classroom teachers, school staff, and students to promote a healthy teaching environment. The SBL-ARY will provide liaison support between family and school and will assist parents and youth with the Individualized Education Plan (IEP) process.

In-Home Services for Infants of At-Risk Pregnant and Post-Partum Women's Program

In-Home Services for Infants of At-Risk Pregnant and Post-Partum Women's Program is one through which the Grantee provides in-home visitation services to improve pregnancy outcomes to ensure the health, growth and development of infants most at-risk. The Grantee shall provide in-home nurse visitation to improve the health status of women and children in Tennessee counties served by reducing the use and misuse of tobacco, alcohol and other substances and to increase the early identification and management of maternal depression. These services are provided from pregnancy until the infant's second (2nd) birthday.

Partnership For Success Project

The Partnership for Success project is an $11.5 million grant from the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA) to reduce alcohol binge drinking among the state's 14-25 year olds. The five-year project began on October 1, 2009, and funds twenty Tennessee Community Prevention Coalitions (CPCs). The CPCs involved in the project are located in the following counties: Blount, Coffee, Davidson, Franklin, Hamblen, Hamilton, Jackson, Johnson, Knox, McMinn, Madison, Maury, Putnam, Roane, Rutherford, Scott, Shelby, Sumner, Washington, and Weakley. The project is designed for participating CPCs to implement evidence-based and emerging practices to positively impact the policies, practices and attitudes that currently support unsafe alcohol consumption and create a hazard to public safety in communities across the state. The project's goals are to reverse the state's upward trend in binge drinking; prevent the onset and progression of substance abuse among 14-25 year olds; strengthen prevention capacity and infrastructure at the state and county levels; and leverage, redirect, and realign Tennessee's funding streams for prevention services.

Established Coalitions

The Established Coalitions program is one through which Substance Abuse Prevention Coalitions (SAPCs) who have demonstrated their understanding of the Strategic Prevention Framework (SPF) and the capacity to complete a comprehensive community plan that includes: an Assessment of Need; Capacity Assessment; Planning Process; Implementation Plan; and Evaluation Plan as described by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Association's Strategic Prevention Framework process.

Developing Coalitions

The Developing Coalitions program is one through which Substance Abuse Prevention Coalitions (SAPCs) who are in the infancy stages of development complete a comprehensive community plan that includes: an Assessment of Need; a Capacity Assessment; a Planning Process; an Implementation Plan; and an Evaluation Plan as described by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Association's Strategic Prevention Framework process.

Higher Education

The Tennessee Independent Colleges and Universities Association (TICUA) engages Tennessee's private colleges and universities to work collaboratively in areas of public policy, cost containment, and professional development to better serve the state and its citizens. TICUA's 35 member colleges and universities educate more than 72,000 students from across the state, country, and throughout the world.

Screening, Brief Intervention, and Referral to Treatment

The Screening, Brief Intervention, Referral for Treatment-Tennessee Program (SBIRT-TN) is funded by the Department of Mental Health and Substance Abuse Services. The main purposes of SBIRT-TN are to identify individuals using substances at risky levels, including those at high risk for or diagnosed with a Substance Use Disorder (SUD). SBIRT-TN is designed to expand and enhance the continuum of care for prevention and substance misuse services to reduce alcohol and drug consumption and its negative impact on our communities. It gives individuals access to statewide substance abuse treatment services and specialty alcohol and drug abuse providers. Through partnerships with primary care physicians and healthcare facilities, SBIRT practices are being integrated into the standard delivery of primary health care to routinely screen all patients, to not only identify individuals who already misuse or abuse alcohol, drugs and other substances, but also provide effective strategies for intervention prior to the need for more extensive or specialized treatment, including addressing the potential for hazardous use.

Tennessee Association of Alcohol, Drug and other Addiction Services (TAADAS)

Tennessee Association of Alcohol and other Drug Abuse Services (TAADAS) is a statewide agency that advocates for substance abuse, treatment and prevention services through community education and engagement. They provide coordination of training and technical assistance for the DSAS provider network.

The Tennessee Certification Board (TCB)

It is the mission of the Tennessee Certification Board (TCB) to establish and promote the credentialing standards of excellence in the field of prevention. The purpose of the certification in prevention is to establish and recognize basic standards for professional competence in the prevention field; and, establish and confirm the credibility of the prevention profession with consumers, employers and funders. Certification as a Prevention Specialist is based on experience and competencies as set by the International Certification & Reciprocity Consortium (IC&RC).

Program Description:

The Northwest Tennessee Adolescent Frontier Health offers an after school, substance abuse prevention and intervention program that uses the SAMHSA evidence-based curriculums, Too Good For Drugs (TGFD) and Guiding Good Choices (GGC). TGFD is based on a curriculum composed of 10 weekly sessions, one hour each. It focuses on developing personal and interpersonal skills to resist peer pressure, goal setting, decision making, bonding with others, having respect for self and others, managing emotions, effective communication, and social interactions. GGC is a drug use prevention program that provides parents of children with the knowledge and skills needed to guide their children through early adolescence. It seeks to strengthen and clarify family expectations for behavior, enhance the conditions that promote unity within the family, and teach skills that allow children to resist drug use successfully. It consists of a five-session curriculum. In addition to the two curriculums used, we will provide services to students who qualify, offering drug-free activities such as arts and crafts, martial arts, gymnastics or dance instruction and any other sports/recreation activity. Students will participate for three hours each week for ten weeks. We will be serving a selected population of children with substance abusing parents and two indicated populations of students who had early initiation of alcohol and drug use and associated problems and those who have excessive use of alcohol and drug use. We will serve approximately 150 students in Hancock, Hawkins and Sullivan Counties. Those students eligible will be those who have used alcohol, tobacco and/or some other kind of drug. We will target school-aged students (ages 10-18).

The Northeast Tennessee Adolescent Prevention Program (N-TAPP) is a family-focused program which serves selected and indicated high-risk adolescents, ages 10 to 18 years in the eight counties of Northeast Tennessee. This network of intensive prevention services brings parents and children together for high-interest activities and an interactive, evidence-based prevention curriculum in each county. These services are school and community based. Parents are provided with tools to assist in setting limits and expectations and improving communications with their children. This program also provides support from other adult relationships with increased time in creative activities and other youth activities which will improve life skills. The Northeast Tennessee Adolescent Prevention Program incorporates all six of the Center for Substance Abuse Prevention Strategies. Information dissemination occurs in programs attended by adolescents and their parents regarding any new community program or information that may be new and relevant to community prevention efforts. Education is a primary strategy. The Guiding Good Choices curriculum is provided for both children and families and addresses preventing substance abuse in the family, setting clear family expectations regarding alcohol and drugs, avoiding trouble, managing family conflict, and strengthening family bonds. The Too Good for Drugs Program is used to reinforce resiliency by teaching social skills and problem solving techniques. Alternative activities are provided to include arts education and sports.

Problems identification and referral occurs when staffs assess the need for follow-up services. A community-based process is enhanced through linkages with many agencies that deliver services and natural supports. Environmental changes occur through unwritten community standards as adolescents and their families develop attitudes that are not favorable toward substance abuse and have higher expectations. The Northeast Tennessee Adolescent Prevention Program works closely with existing anti-drug coalitions and other community organizations and assists in building additional county coalitions through the view that when a community involves all sectors and uses multiple strategies to address underage drinking, tobacco and drug use in a comprehensive way, early onset will be delayed and the destructive use of alcohol, tobacco and other drugs will be reduced.

Program Description:

Children of incarcerated parents have traditionally been the invisible victims of incarceration, with little national attention and study being directed toward them prior to the 1990's. This population is a distinct subset of at-risk youth with multiple risk factors in their lives that make them vulnerable to substance abuse. Some of those risk factors are; behavior and academic performance problems, a high incidence of poverty and residential mobility, unstable family situations and self-esteem challenges. In addition, they often experience a level of trauma and stigma that few other children experience. There are an estimated 6,442 prisoners in the Middle Tennessee counties we serve.

Big Brothers Big Sisters of Middle Tennessee's Amachi Program provides selective prevention services through one-to-one mentoring for children of prisoners in eight Middle Tennessee counties. Youth between the ages of six and sixteen are matched with a caring adult mentor for at least one year. Youth can remain in the program until age 18.

Program Description:

Oasis Center proposes to serve 480 of Davidson County's most vulnerable youth with the well-researched Teen Outreach Program (TOP) to delay onset of, reduce, and eliminate alcohol and drug abuse. Priority is given to 11 to 18 year olds from these selective groups: youth who are in foster care, juvenile justice involved, in alternative learning centers, at risk of dropping out of schools with high concentration of poverty rates, and acculturating immigrant and refugee youth. TOP's youth development approach combines school based skill building/discussion groups with in and out-of-school hands-on service-learning projects that typically operates weekly (1 hour group + 2-3 hr. afterschool project) for the entire school year. The duration is shortened at Woodland Hills and Cameron Middle School to better suit their parameters. TOP develops healthy behaviors, life skills, and a sense of purpose as youth contribute to their communities in meaningful ways. We also encourage youth to consider college and create multiple opportunities to interact with first generation college students from similar backgrounds. Summer groups focus on careers, college, and cultural enrichment that further builds and maintain healthy friendships with community members. School success increases while school dropouts, suspensions, course failure, and substance abuse decreases. The TOP Program is currently on more than a dozen national best practice listings.

Population Served:

Foster Care Children; Juvenile Offenders; Acculturating immigrant and refugee youth; and youth in poverty attending schools with 90% rate of free and reduced lunch and at risk for dropping out.

Program Description:

Renewal House has a residential wrap-around program for addicted women in poverty and their children. The substance abuse prevention program at Renewal House serves the selective population of children of mothers living in the Renewal House residential program. Renewal House has more than 15 years of experience providing comprehensive family recovery services for mothers with substance use and co-occurring mental health disorders and their children. From the agency's beginning, Renewal House has recognized addiction as a family disease that profoundly affects children of the addicted parent(s) and has structured its programs and services to help break the intergenerational family cycle of substance abuse.

Prevention services include Celebrating Families, a research-based program specifically designed to serve children (3-17 years old) of substance abusing parents in the family domain. Having parents who did not learn healthy living skills, the children often lack these skills themselves. Skills such as communication for the appropriate expression of emotions, coping skills to manage stress and understanding of the harm of substance abuse is taught in a semi-family style environment and facilitated by a licensed professional.

Program Description:

Moral Reconation Therapy (MRT) is a systematic treatment strategy that seeks to decrease recidivism among juvenile offenders by increasing moral reasoning. Its cognitive-behavioral approach combines elements from a variety of psychological traditions to progressively address ego, social, moral, and positive behavioral growth. MRT takes the form of group and individual counseling using structured group exercises and prescribed homework assignments. The MRT workbook is structured around 16 objectively defined steps (units) focusing on seven basic treatment issues: confrontation of beliefs, attitudes, and behaviors; assessment of current relationships; reinforcement of positive behavior and habits; positive identity formation; enhancement of self-concept; decrease in hedonism and development of frustration tolerance; and development of higher stages of moral reasoning. Participants meet in groups weekly and can complete all steps of the MRT program in a minimum of 3 to 6 months. Moral Reconation Therapy (MRT) is included in SAMHSA's (Substance Abuse & Mental Health Administration) list of evidence-based programs and practices. All MRT groups must be operated by MRT-certified facilitators —professional staff, who complete a 32-hour training. Participants are selected through the juvenile court system, department of human services, parent referral, school guidance counselor or social worker. The majority of participants usually demonstrate behaviors of substance abuse however; we do not exclude participants who are sanctioned for unruly behavior, truancy, theft or disorderly conduct due to the fact that these behaviors typically are underlying issues of substance abuse. We anticipate serving one hundred juveniles this year. Young adult participants are sanctioned through general session's court. We anticipate on serving twenty- five young adults ages eighteen to twenty-five this year. The majority of young adults are sanctioned due to alcohol related offenses.

1) PCS prevention specialist will use a combination of three different curriculums. We are also reviewing other relevant programs and may purchase a new program. However one program to be used will be Too Good for Drugs. This program will mainly be used for the Early Initiation population and focuses on increasing participants decision making skills, more appropriate coping skills, choosing positive peers, refusal skills, including drugs and negative peer group and increasing positive self image. The program is designed to meet with participants one time a week for 45-60 minutes for 12-15 weeks. PCS has two programs that are for elementary age students and middle school students. Both programs will be used, as prevention specialist will work with this indicated population in the schools for 10-14 year olds. Prevention specialist will work with approximately 185-200 children with this indicated population. Students eligible for this program will be individuals in Dyer County, Lauderdale County, Fayette County and Tipton County. The program will be offered in the schools listed in number 7. Students who have been referred by PCS staff, school personal, DCS, parents and local health departments will be eligible to be screened for the program.

2) Project Alert and/or Too Good for Drugs will be used for the juvenile Offender selective population. While both programs focus on improving decision making skills, increasing positive self image and refusal skills, Project Alert goes a little more in depth with alcohol and drug abuse, educating participants on effects of drugs of abuse, legal issues and early warning signs of addiction. Both programs are designed to last 12-15 weeks for 45-60 minutes and will target to serve approximately 30-35 children for the year. This group will meet 2 times a week for the stated 12-15 week period at the Ripley Professional Care office at approximately 3:30 PM. In addition Prevention Specialist can provide this group in Alternative Learning Centers meeting two times a week for 15 weeks in all four counties. Since this will be in a school setting the numbers are reflected in the 185-200 youth served in a school setting. Referral will come from, but not limited to; Department of Children Services, School Personal, Lauderdale Juvenile Court (including Probation Offices and Judges) and PCS staff for youth 12-17 years age who are at risk of being placed on probation, first time offenders and/or currently on probation.

3) Co-occurring Disorder Group will use the Hazelden Co-Occurring Program. This curriculum can be tailored to specific problems of the group participants. The program will meet one time a week for 15 weeks with each group lasting 45-60 minutes. Group times will be either after school (if school will allow) or during school hours. Participants will be referred by school personal, PCS staff, Department of Children Services, Medical doctors and/or other mental health counselors who work with children exhibiting symptoms of ADHD, anxiety, conduct problems, high risk of substance abuse and/or social anxiety. The group will be offered for youth 13-16 year olds exhibiting any or all of the above issues in Dyer, Fayette, Lauderdale and/or Tipton counties working with approximately 45-50 youth.

Population Served:

1) Selective: Juvenile Offender Group will be recruited with the collaboration from staff at PCS, Juvenile court, Department of Children Services, truancy officers, school guidance counselors and juvenile probation officers. PCS staff has a good relationship with the above-mentioned individuals and already have established a referral process for the targeted group. Even though this group has had a slow start, referrals have increased over the past month. Staff will continue to increase communication to agencies for appropriate referrals.

2) Indicated: Early initiation groups are established in middle and elementary schools in all four counties. The groups are a huge success and much appreciated by the school personal. A middle school in Dyer County has already asked for this group to be established in their school as well as a new middle school from Fayette County. Guidance counselors, teachers, parents and PCS staff will make referrals to the group. Referral behaviors include but not limited to; experimentation of drugs, negative peer group, emotional/behavioral problems in school and lack of commitment to school. Inclusion criteria include identified problems in the four domains (community, family, school and individual and peers). In addition a history/screening form as well as Rosenberg Self Esteem Test is administered to the child evaluating the domains to determine appropriateness for group.

3) Mental Health: PCS plans to take a different direction and venue for this program next fiscal year. Staff attempted to have this program at the Covington PCS office this past fiscal year using referrals from PCS staff, DCS, school personal and other mental health agencies. We did receive referrals, however transportation was a barrier. Prevention specialist switched gears and is now offering the group after school at Munford High School. The school already has a 'late' bus running in the afternoons the youth can ride home, making transportation more assessable. Plans are to have program in more schools either during or after school for next fiscal year. A referral form is used for youth in this group also. Criteria include but not limited to: substance use, family history of substance use, conduct problems, depression, social anxiety and unpredictable mood.
